Detailed course descriptions can be found in the MPH Program Manual

MPH 6000, MPH 6002, MPH 6011, and MPH 6035 will be taken in-person by all students in the in-person learning experience, regardless of concentration. MPH 6010 will also be taken together by all students in the in-person learning experience, but because it is a summer course, content will be offered on-line only.

Epidemiology concentration students are required to take both MPH 6011 and BIOS 7021 in Fall 2023. While BIOS 7021 is offered in-person along with other non-MPH students, Epidemiology concentration students will not be able to take it with their in-person learning experience classmates. As a result, epidemiology students will also take MPH 6013, on-line, separate from their in-person learning experience classmates.

Students in the other concentrations will be able to take MPH 6013 and BIOS 7021 together and in-person.
