

10th Annual Jean Mills Health Symposium

Navigating Health Equity in the Next Decade

Presented by the ECU College of Allied Health Sciences in collaboration with ECU Medical & Health Sciences Foundation

East Carolina Heart Institute

February 7, 2014 – 9 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

This one-day symposium will feature information and sessions on:

- the role of AMEXCAN in implementing successful health programs in the Mexican & Latino community
- the innovative contributions of school nurses in reducing health disparities
- the role of mobile health units in addressing health inequities

Audience

The Symposium is open to allied health and public health providers, community residents and leaders, nurses, dentists and oral health providers, physicians, other health care providers, faith-based organizations, ECU faculty/staff/students, and the general public

Additional Information

For more information contact Beth Velde (veldeb@ecu.edu) or to register, visit <https://piratealumni.ecu.edu/ccon/events.do> and select “Event Registration,” then view events in February 2014. Please be sure to complete all the required information as indicated by the red star (*) as well as the information regarding your work place.

Should you wish to complete the registration form by hand that is on the fourth page of this brochure, make checks payable to “ECU Medical & Health Sciences Foundation” with “Mills Symposium” in the memo line.

10th Annual Jean Mills Health Symposium

Navigating Health Equity in the Next Decade

February 7, 2014

8:30 a.m. Registration
Posters & Displays

9:00 a.m. Welcome
Dr. Stephen Thomas, Dean, ECU College of Allied Health Sciences
Mr. Amos Mills

9:15 a.m. Keynote Presentation
Health Care: Looking Forward

Lori Carter-Edwards, PhD, MPH, Deputy Director for Research and Operations for the UNC Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention (HPDP) and Research Associate Professor of Health Behavior at the UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health

This session will focus on questions such as, what will health care look like and what can the consumer expect in 10 years? Will the consumer be more knowledgeable about health and health care and how to access and use it as an informed consumer? What changes can we expect to see in the health profile of consumers in 10 years and where and how will they be served?

10:15 a.m. Questions & Answers session

10:30 a.m. Break
Posters & Displays

10:45 a.m. Panel Discussion
Jim Baluss, Executive Director, Access East, Inc.
Dr. Lorri Basnight, Executive Director, Eastern AHEC; Associate Dean, Clinical Medical Education, Brody School of Medicine
Dr. Tom Irons, Associate Vice Chancellor, Regional Health Services, Brody School of Medicine

11:45 a.m. Lunch and Presentation
10th Anniversary of Jean Mills Health Symposium: Highlights from the Past
Dr. Beth Velde, Director of Public Service and Community Relations, Professor, Occupational Therapy, ECU College of Allied Health Sciences
Dr. Don Ensley, Professor Emeritus, ECU College of Allied Health Sciences

1:00 p.m. Concurrent Sessions #1

Health Concerns of Latinos in North Carolina: The Role of Community Based Organizations

Essie Torres, PhD, AMEXCAN

Misun Hur, PhD, Assistant Professor, ECU Department of Geography, Planning, and Environment

The role of the Association of Mexicans in North Carolina, Inc. (AMEXCAN) is "Fostering the Appreciation, Understanding, and Prosperity of the Mexican and Latino Community through Culture, Leadership, Health, Advocacy and Education." As a community based, grassroots organization it is concerned with the complexity of issues that impact the health of the Latino population. This presentation will focus on how a community based organization collaborates with health providers,

10th Annual Jean Mills Health Symposium

Navigating Health Equity in the Next Decade

February 7, 2014

community activists, local governments and others in identifying and implementing successful health programs.

1:00 p.m.

Concurrent Sessions #1 (cont.)

Health Concerns of School-Age Children

Terri Joyner, RN, MSN, Pitt County School Nurse Supervisor

Leslie Ricker, RN, FNP, Wayne Initiative for School Health

This session will focus on the innovative contributions of school nurses in reducing health disparities. The presenters will describe the health issues they observe within their school age population and the services their organizations provide to address those issues.

2:00 p.m.

Break

Posters & Displays

2:15 p.m.

Concurrent Session #2

Using Mobile Clinics to Address Health Disparities

Winston Salem State RAMS Know H.O.W. (Healthcare on Wheels)

ECU ORNC Mobile Van

This session will focus on the role of mobile health units in addressing health inequities and will feature presenters from two innovative programs. The session will include a tour of the mobile health units.

The RAMS Know H.O.W. (Healthcare on Wheels) mobile clinic is a community outreach program provided by Winston-Salem State University School of Health Sciences. The mobile clinic provides quality, accessible, and integrated wellness services to reduce health disparities. The mobile clinic offers free preventive health services to East Winston residents and others, who are uninsured or underinsured, in the convenience of their community. The clinic's team is made up of health sciences faculty, staff, and student volunteers. This team conducts the health screenings and makes referrals to local providers, as needed.

The Operation Re-Entry van is equipped with satellite communication and other technology to take medical, psychiatric and behavioral health services to veterans and their families where they live.

3:45 p.m.

Adjourn

10th Annual Jean Mills Health Symposium

Navigating Health Equity in the Next Decade

Presented by the ECU College of Allied Health Sciences in collaboration with ECU Medical & Health Sciences Foundation

East Carolina Heart Institute

February 7, 2014 – 9:00 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

Pricing

Registration fee until January 24, 2014: $35.00

January 25, 2014 and after: $40.00

Student registration fee until January 24, 2014: $20.00

January 25, 2014 and after: $25.00

Online registration requires a credit card, go to

<https://piratealumni.ecu.edu/ccon/events.do> and select “Event

Registration” then view events in February 2014

Registration via mail using hard copy form requires check made out to “ECU Medical & Health Sciences Foundation” with “Mills Symposium” in the memo line.

The 10th Annual Jean Mills Health Symposium

Navigating Health Equity in the Next Decade

February 7, 2014 - East Carolina Heart Institute

PERSONAL

Last Name: _____

First Name: _____ Middle Initial: _____

Discipline (Check one) Allied Health Dentistry Health Careers Medicine
 Mental Health Nursing Public Health Pharmacy Other

Specialties: _____

Degrees/Certifications/License: _____

Mail goes to Home Office E-mail

WORKPLACE

Employer: _____

Department: _____ Position: _____

Street/PO Box: _____

City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

HOME

Street/PO Box: _____

City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

PAYMENT

Method of Payments: check.....$35

Check Enclosed for $ _____

Signature: _____

Street/PO Box: _____

City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____

Mail Completed Form to:

College of Allied Health Sciences – Attn: Mills Symposium
Health Sciences Building
Mail Stop 668
East Carolina University
Greenville, NC 27858-4353